Comparison with Government provision for planned spending

£ per dwelling
Expenditure figure used by Government in Aggregate External Finance (Government support) calculations	4,895
Approved expenditure by authority on a comparable basis	5,113

An increase of 4.79% was agreed at the council budget-setting meeting held on Tuesday 12 February 2019. This will apply equally across all bands.

Council Tax is applied across a range of bands from A to H, with all bands having a relationship with Band D, known as the multiplier. The Scottish Government legislated to increase the Council Tax multipliers for properties in bands E to H from 1 April 2017.

Single person households with a net income of up to £16,750, and all other households with a net income of up to £25,000 and less than £16,000 in savings, will be protected from the increased charge caused by the Band E to H multiplier change. ARE YOU FINDING YOUR COUNCIL TAX BILL HARD TO PAY?

Find out if you should be paying less – apply for Council Tax Reduction today

Council Tax Reduction could help you pay your Council Tax bill if you are on a low income. It is worked out taking account of your income and individual circumstances. If you are currently in receipt of Council Tax Reduction or Housing Benefit, we will automatically reassess your benefit and if your benefit changes, we will write and tell you.

What should I do next?

If you were previously not entitled to any benefit due to the amount of income you received you may now qualify. You need to fill in a new form to claim benefit and provide the necessary documents to support the information you put on the form. We know forms can be daunting and put people off claiming benefits they are entitled to, however we can provide advice and assistance if required. You can request a claim form by telephone on: 0131 271 3201 or by email at: revenues.enquiries@midlothian.gov.uk
