

How your personal Information is used by Environmental Health

Here at Midlothian Council we take your privacy seriously. Under the Data Protection Act 2018, you have a right to know how we collect, use and share your personal data.

Environmental Health carries out a wide range of regulatory functions for Midlothian Council. In doing so we collect information about individuals and businesses. We enforce the laws in areas such as private sector housing, food safety, workplace safety and environmental crime. We also issue various licences. This privacy notice explains the information Environmental Health needs in order to carry out these functions.

What kinds of personal data do we collect?

The personal data we collect might include your name, date of birth, address, National Insurance number, or other information that identifies you. If necessary, we might also collect what is called 'special category' data – that is, sensitive information such as your gender and medical/health information.

How do we collect your personal data?

We collect your personal data in many different ways. You might give us your personal data yourself, by entering your information in an application form, a contact form on the Council website or by contacting a Council officer in person, in writing or over the phone. We might also receive your personal data from other council services, other agencies or local authorities.

How do we use your personal data?

The personal data collected from you may be used in different circumstances:-

- For the purposes of performing any of our statutory enforcement duties
- to contact you about a complaint, service request or application you have made to us

- to maintain any registers that the law requires us to keep
- If you have applied for a licence of some sort we may use your personal data to check that you have not been disqualified from holding a licence, committed certain offences relating to fraud, violence or drugs, or contravened any laws, rules or agreements that may stop you being issued with a licence
- to determine if you are a fit and proper person to be a registered landlord in Midlothian
- to determine if you are a fit and proper person to be a caravan site licence holder
- for the collection of any fees due to the Council
- to check that you are not under age if the law requires you are over 18 years
- to determine if you have the legal right (e.g., through ownership) to authorise works and obtain a grant for a domestic property
- For landlord register system generated notifications via the GOV.UK notify service.

Do we share your personal data?

We will only share your personal data if it is necessary to do so and the appropriate conditions have been met to protect it. We will share your personal data if we are compelled to share it by law. If we share information regularly with another organisation, the conditions for sharing your personal data are set out in an Information Sharing Agreement or are permitted by legislation.

With whom do we share your personal data?

Your Personal data may be shared with other Midlothian Council services where we are carrying out a regulatory function or where it is necessary for us to carry out a service you have asked us to. We may share your personal data with other persons authorised by Midlothian Council to act on our behalf in carrying out the requirements of the above legislation such as contractors. If necessary, we might share your personal data with other agencies and authorities, depending on the service being provided.

The external bodies with whom we might share information to carry out are functions include (organisations with a star are mandatory):

- Other Food safety regulators in local authorities
- Food Standards Scotland*
- Health and Safety Executive
- Scottish Environment Protection Agency
- A veterinary surgeon or practitioner authorised by Midlothian Council to inspect licensed premises and the animals kept there
- NHS Lothian*
- The Procurator Fiscal Service*
- Police Scotland
- Care Commission
- HMRC
- Scottish Government
- Lothian and Borders Fire and Rescue Service

How long do we keep your personal data?

Your personal data is kept in line with Midlothian Council's Retention Schedule. The retention schedule sets out the kinds of information the Council creates and uses, how long it should be kept, and what should be done with it at the end of its 'life'. Our retention schedule.
