In response to the Covid-19 emergency, Midlothian Council and its partners have had to speedily adapt to new and more flexible ways of working. Despite the many hardships the lockdown has, by necessity, imposed on individuals, our families and communities, we have worked hard to keep essential services operational.

The response from our Community Planning Partners including: council services, the NHS, our health and social care partners, the emergency services, the Armed Forces, businesses, community groups and volunteers, has been truly outstanding. Now, we need to work with you to plan for a new, very different future within the limited resources available.

It is clear that as we gradually and carefully leave lockdown, many of the enforced restrictions we have seen over the last few months will inevitably need to remain in place for some time to come. This means continuing to change the way we work - providing the support and protection our communities need; restoring and maintaining local services, and supporting our vital economic recovery in a sustainable way.

This document is a renewal plan for Midlothian. It sets out how the council intends to work with its partners and communities to put the necessary changes in place to help us recover from the pandemic and to meet the huge challenges we now face. Without underestimating the scale of the task ahead, our plan is one firmly founded on hope, ambition and the promise of a better future.

I hope that you will not only take the time to read about our plans as these develop but that you will contribute your own comments, questions and suggestions on this “new beginning” for Midlothian.

On 20 March 2020 the council moved to critical service delivery in response to the Covid-19 Pandemic. The rapid response to this pandemic resulted in a complete transformation of how the council works, including remote working, digital transformation and rapid response. This new strategy seeks to both support recovery and to retain the best elements of the transformation which took place in response to Covid-19 and make these permanent changes to the way the council delivers its services

The Covid-19 crisis has created a very different way of working and rapid learning for Midlothian Council at all levels. This outbreak will end, but we need to change how we work: there are things we have paused or stopped doing, and many things we needed to do differently, and there are some things we have done that we haven't done before. Some of these changes reflect the restrictions the government has put in place to stop the spread of infection, while others are to allow us to continue running our operations while protecting all of us. We also recognise we can't do everything ourselves so we have partnered with others to help fulfil the role communities need of us.

The purpose of this document is to set out a flexible and iterative renewal plan by Midlothian Council, in association with partners, to recover from the Covid-19 pandemic. These are exceptionally trying times. We all face huge challenges, but we'll all come through not just intact, but strengthened and with the renewed trust of the people and communities we serve.

This much is certain: when we finally enter into the post-crisis period, the business and economic context will not have returned to its pre-crisis state. Executives preparing their organisations to succeed in the new normal must focus on what has changed and what remains basically the same for their customers, companies, and industries. The result will be an environment that, while different from the past, is no less rich in possibilities for those who are prepared.

Caring for vulnerable residents, looking after key workers' children, liaising with our resilience partners, making sure bins are emptied and supporting local businesses and workers during the pandemic are just a few of the critical services we continue to deliver. This is all while adapting and responding to new and unforeseen challenges at considerable speed.

However, with evidence the virus is slowing, at least temporarily, we can embrace new opportunities after life in lockdown. This route map is not just about when you can expect buildings to reopen. It's about using our new knowledge, experiences and sense of shared endeavour to collaborate and think innovatively to reshape services around the needs of our citizens.

We all want to return to some kind of normality but we must keep everyone as safe as possible. So while focussing on hope, ambition and the promise of a better future, our renewal plan is firmly-founded on evidence around how and when to ease restrictions locally while keeping people safe.

In Chapter 5, you will find our approach mirrors the Scottish Government's route map, from the current Phase 1 when there remains a high risk the virus is not contained to Phase 4 when the virus is suppressed and no longer poses a significant risk to public health.

Our document indicates when you may gradually and carefully see a lifting of restrictions. For example, in line with national guidance, Stobhill Recycling Centre reopened in Phase 1, with physical distancing measures and a new traffic management system in place. With more outdoor activity permitted – such as being able to sit in the park, as long as physically distanced - Vogrie car park and toilets also reopened in Phase 1. Other services will take longer.

Some of our buildings and practices need to change to reflect new safety guidance. We are working hard for the return to school for children from the 12 August.

We do not specify dates and times for each phase of the route map, but will instead base future phasing on national guidance as well as local need.

Much of our decision making will, therefore, depend on the Scottish Government's three week reviews. It must meet specific criteria, including those set by the World Health Organisation (WHO), before speeding up or slowing down elements within each phase nationally.

The pandemic has cemented our vision of a greener, safer, sustainable, ambitious and thriving Midlothian underpinned by a wellbeing economy that puts its citizens and local service delivery at the heart of all decisions. Therefore, the Midlothian phases also reflect new ways of working from lessons learned from lockdown including redesigning services around 'digital by default' and 'remote working' solutions.

It won't be easy at times and we will all have to adapt. However, having witnessed staff, partner organisations, residents and communities pulling together for the common good during this terrible pandemic, we are confident that, with Midlothian's route map through and out of the crisis, we will emerge stronger, united and committed to an even better future.

In delivering services, it is important to recognise people are our most important asset. Our people can deliver life-changing impacts for our communities. Therefore to maximise that positive impact it is imperative that we work as One Council by removing any institutional barriers and eliminating any silo working to enable the organisation to implement simple solutions that make a big difference. This means placing our citizens and communities at the centre of our daily work; growing our own talent and empowering our staff, thereby enabling Midlothian to fulfil its potential as a Great Place to Grow.

The Council is ambitious for the future of Midlothian. The Vision for Midlothian is a Great Place to Grow. The Community Planning Partnership has identified Carbon Neutral by 2030 as an overarching aim supported by 3 main priorities:

- Reducing inequalities in learning outcomes
- Reducing inequalities in health outcomes
- Reducing inequalities in economic circumstances

The Midlothian Community Planning Partnership continues to prioritise the available resources towards the delivery of the partnership's key priorities. We will also continue to build on our successes by our investment in a major capital building programme which will see record investment in much needed social housing, extra care housing, care homes and schools to meet the requirements of a fast-growing population.

Such a strategy is critical because the council is a busy place, carrying out many functions. Research shows that the very best organisations succeed because they know where to focus their attention. This strategy is therefore, our statement of intent - designed to focus investment and drive performance within a values-based organisation to best meet the needs of the individuals and communities we serve.

Our strategy for recovery, as we continue to respond and emerge from this crisis, is based on the creation of a Wellbeing Economy, designed to achieve wellbeing, inclusion and fairness for our communities and to protect and enhance our environment.

Our overarching principle is that in delivering services, whether commissioned internally or externally, that we keep our communities, our employees and our environment safe minimising exposure to Covid-19, or any other harmful agent, at the same time as meeting our commitment to being carbon neutral by 2030.

Building on our 9 drivers for change, this strategy covers the following areas:

Holistic Working	Hub and Spoke	Modern	Sustainable	Transformational	Preventative	Asset Based	Continuous Improvement	One Size Fits One
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> One Council - joined up - Services All through support, minimising transition points 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Local by default supported by 4 Locality Place Teams Minimal services delivered centrally 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Digital by Default Place based front facing services Home working for those services able to be delivered at home Digital, rather than physical, attendance at meetings 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Climate Change commitment to be Carbon neutral by 2030 Minimising travel by committing to working as locally as possible 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This strand supports the delivery of the other 8 drivers for change 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Continued investment in early intervention and prevention as a priority 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Local by default Only retaining physical buildings where required Maximising opportunities for social housing solutions Eliminate homelessness 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Committed to achieving "better than our previous best" 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Our Citizens come first and are known as individuals and experience services appropriate to best meet their needs

Specifically we are prioritising the following interventions to support recovery:

- Economic Renewal
- Accelerated Capital Programme for Housing and the School Estate
- Education Recovery Plan
- Hub and Spoke Place Service Delivery
- Health and Social Care Transformation
- Digital by default, Remote working and Carbon Neutral by 2030 approaches to the workplace and active travel

The strategy is filled with hope and ambition to rebuild Midlothian following the global pandemic. It represents a significant shift for the council in order to help Midlothian deliver services which are digital by default with services delivered at the most local level, within the resources available, and enabling those who can work remotely to continue to do so.

Our Wellbeing Economy will create a more equal Midlothian where the environment and our communities prosper.

By focusing on, for example, creating sustainable business models including social enterprises, building social value into our procurement contracts and exploring alternative uses of our land for community benefits, we will tackle poverty and inequality and build a more resilient society.

But we can't do it alone. To be successful we must work with our communities and partner organisations, from the NHS to City Region Deal partners and local businesses.

We can all see the benefits our Wellbeing Economy can bring. Better health and potentially life expectancy for local people, net zero carbon emissions and improving attainment by giving our children the best start in life, are just a few.

Our Economic Renewal strategy has been developed to append the previously published Strategy for Growth 2020-25, with its four key pillars of innovation, inclusion, partnership working and ambition - all of which are aimed at continuing to make Midlothian 'a great, green place to grow'. We will work with our businesses to adapt, diversify, develop and grow and ensure local communities and workers have fairer jobs, pay and opportunities to train and progress. We will be encouraging people to support our businesses by spending locally and promoting the Midlothian brand.

The world is already facing a major recession, perhaps the biggest in centuries. It is vital, therefore, that we start now to build our local economy that is fairer, resilient, sustainable and puts the wellbeing of our communities and environment at its heart.
